Teaching in the Nexus: Insights on Education is a 6 hour course which explains how each personality type approaches the educational process. Designed for professional teachers, trainers, counselors, administrators, coaches, and parents, this course builds on the foundation established by the prerequisite Discovering Your Personality Spectrum course.

You will learn how to effectively instruct at-risk and underperforming students who are genuinely difficult to instruct, and you will discover how to effectively manage your classrooms, discipline students, reduce misbehavior, and enhance learning potential.
